QR Code

We are thrilled to introduce our ground-breaking traceability and impact tech via the Mantis World Impact Calculator. We are rolling out a tear-out label featuring a QR code that any customer can scan, taking them to a “white label” microsite where they can see how much water, energy, CO₂ and pesticides they have saved by choosing to buy our organic garment. By clicking through they can also see full traceability from the raw material onwards with images of the actual facility for every step of production. Customers are also able to view some of the certifications we hold and a little bit of background of how we calculated the impact savings.
